OFFICERS TAKE NO REST TODAY IN DEATH PROBE

District Attorney Wades Through Tangled Clues Seeking Slayer.

TAYLOR CASE BAFFLES

Woman Gives "Dream" Tip of Fair Haired Woman As Guilty Party.

(By the Associated Press) LOS ANGELES, Feb. 13.—Mary Miles Minter, motion picture actress, issued a statement here today through her attorneys declaring that she had told investigators "all she knew" of the life of William Desmond Taylor, motion picture director slain mysteriously 12 days ago. She said she could not conceive how any person could voluntarily wrong Taylor.

"There is no personal or financial sacrifice that I would not gladly make to bring the slayers of William Desmond Taylor to justice," said the statement.

"Mr. Taylor was one of my best friends. His death was a shock to me."

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 13.—Investigation by the district attorney's office into the William Desmond Taylor murder mystery will proceed today, although it is a legal holiday, according to a statement made shortly after midnight by Thomas Lee Woolwine, district attorney.

He said he was uncertain what form the investigation would take but thought it unlikely that he would summons to his office any motion picture stars or others. He thought it more probable, he stated, that the detectives would investigate any available leads and that witnesses would be summoned for questioning by him hereafter only when the preliminary work of the officials indicate some discovery of more than usual importance.

This latter course would place the detectives of the police department again on the theory that the finding of Edward F. Sands, missing former butler-secretary to Taylor, was essential to a solution of the enigma, and those of the sheriff's office on their diametrical opposite contention that Sands had nothing to do with the slaying.

Won't Admit Defeat. While the police detectives and the sheriff's deputies have not acknowledged defeat they will admit the case is one of the most bewildering ever to come to their attention. Days have passed since the discovery of Taylor's body and officials assigned to the mystery have worked with less than their ordinary sleep and under unusual pressure in tracking down what seems to be tangible clues and in investigating almost innumerable tips.

A sample of some of the "tips" sent to the officials is the following, from a letter in what is deemed a woman's hand writing.

"I dreamed last night that Mr. Taylor was killed by a fair haired woman, with a hooked nose. Find that woman and you have the murderer."

There is "a grave and serious doubt at the present time as to whether the murderer of Taylor will ever be apprehended," declared Mr. Woolwine early today.

He made this declaration in a statement he issued, deplored what he termed a "faked and fraudulent interview" on the case, and particularly one purposed to have come from him and printed in the earlier edition of the Examiner for Monday morning.

UNCLE OF DAUGHERTY DIES IN SPRINGFIELD

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Feb. 13.—Albert Daugherty, 778, an uncle of Attorney General M. F. Daugherty, died at his home here late yesterday of heart failure.

SOLDIER KILLED IN BATTLE WITH EAGLE

SANTIAGO, Chile, Feb. 13.—A story of a soldier's fatal clash with a huge eagle in a mountain pass near Los Andes last Saturday is told by the newspapers here. The soldier shot the eagle and, thinking he had killed it, approached. But the bird had only suffered a broken wing and furiously attacked him.

In the struggle which followed the eagle's claws clutched the trigger of the soldier's gun, which was discharged, the bullet entering the man's body. He died in the arms of his companions, who took his body, and also the wounded eagle, to Los Andes.

DENBY ASKS FOR CUT IN NATION'S NAVAL STRENGTH

(By the Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—Secretary Denby appeared before the house naval committee today to recommend that the naval personnel for the next fiscal year be fixed at 90,000 men and 6,000 apprentices, as compared with 100,000 men and 6,000 apprentices now authorized.

Mr. Denby recommended that there be no reduction in the existing staff at the naval academy, and that the first class be graduated and commissioned, but that apprentices at the academy hereafter be reduced to three from each member of congress instead of five.

The naval head recommended that 100 destroyers be put out of commission. He estimated that the program he outlined would affect a saving of $70,000,000 in the next year's budget.

CO. ATTORNEY TO STATE HOSPITAL

Wadlington Breaks Down Under Heavy Strain of Official Duties.

County Attorney Wayne Wadlington left Ada today overland in charge of Sheriff Bob Duncan, Deputy J. B. Chapman, Former County Attorney Robert Wimbish, and two of Wadlington's relatives, Fred Horner and Fred Prichard, of Bogata, Texas, for the Oklahoma State Hospital at Norman to recuperate from nervous break-down.

The party left here shortly after noon and probably will reach its destination late in the day. Worries over the political situation and the stress of a hard season in the courts in which he participated vigorously as a prosecutor are said to have been contributing causes of his collapse. Mr. Wadlington had been absent from his office for several days suffering from nervous disorders brought on by his close confinement to office duties and by devoted application to civic enterprises with which he was connected.

No temporary successor had been appointed today to fill the county attorney's office which will be in charge of Assistant County Attorney Hugh F. Mathis.

A report from physicians at the state hospital is expected in a few days and this doubtless will reveal his exact condition.

Wadlington was well known in county bar circles even before his election as county attorney three years ago. He has led the prosecution in some of the biggest criminal cases that have been listed on the local district court docket in recent years. He was a leader in church enterprises.

Their Friendly Notes are Included in Letters of Murdered Movie Director

Affectionate notes, said to have been written to Taylor by Blanche Sweet and Gloria Swanson, two of the many noted movie stars he numbered among his friends, were found among the effects of William Desmond Taylor, famous movie director whose mysterious death is still baffling police. The contents of the love missives found in Taylor's possession have been read carefully by the authorities. Letters from many other stars were found.

ULSTER AFFAIR IS TENSE TODAY

Killing of Four Constables Disturbs Quiet Course of Negotiations.

(By the Associated Press) LONDON, Feb. 13.—The situation in Ireland which had seemed to be improving under the apparent efforts of Arthur Griffith and Michael Collins to obtain the release of the kidnapped Ulster men, has become acutely dangerous, as the result of the Clones affair on Saturday.

The Times Dublin correspondent says dismay followed the news of the clash, in which 4 special Ulster constables were killed, eight wounded and six made prisoners, and the leader of the Sinn Feiners, Matthew Flizgibbons, shot dead. The provisional government was perturbed as the affair dashed the high hopes based on its amnesty proclamation and the British decision to release all prisoners held for offenses in England from Irish political motives, prior to the truce in Ireland. Developments are awaited with the utmost anxiety.

Edison 75 Feb. 11 But Delays None His Usual Labor

(By the Associated Press) WEST ORANGE, N. J., Feb. 11.—Seventy-five years ago Saturday, Thomas A. Edison was born. February 11, was just another Saturday in his busy life and he made no plans to take a day off, not even failing to arise at the usual hour.

While Mr. Edison seemingly forgot the day and its significance, there was noticeable over in the quarters of the "Edison Pioneers," an organization of men employed by him since 1885.

Some Signs of Activity.

Hotel Bandits Get $100,000 in Early Morning Job Today

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 13.—Jewelry estimated by the hotel management to be valued at $100,000 was obtained by bandits who early today looted the safety deposit boxes at the Washington Hotel in the western section of the city. H. A. Crofton, night clerk, was compelled, at the point of a revolver, to open the safe. The jewelry was the property of guests and the exact value will not be determined until the guests list their losses.

The bandits also obtained $960 in cash and $1018 in currency from the cash drawer. They escaped after compelling the clerk, together with an elevator operator, to lie on the floor.

GRIT

Grit! A rare quality in human nature, therefore one of the most prized. The man of grit looks adversity and misfortune in the face and dares it to do its worst, never wincing when felled by a blow but up again and in the fray again. Enemies may undermine his reputation, slanders may besmirch his name, fair weather friends desert him, but he still looks the world in the face unafraid and unflinching. There is little in the character of Macbeth to admire, but even when realizing that he was facing fate itself he could still draw his sword and cry: "Lay on, Macduff, and damned be he who first cries 'Hold enough.' It is the unconquerable spirit that wins in the end, and should the grim fighter at last be laid low by fate, he can feel some degree of satisfaction in the fact that he went his limit and did not whine when stricken down by blows he could not parry.

TONG WAR BREAKS OUT ALONG COAST

Chinese Under Cover After Killing of Three in Various States.

(By the Associated Press) SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 13.—Chinese tongmen throughout the west were reported under cover of their guard today as the result of an apparent outbreak of Tong war last night, when two Chinese were killed and a third wounded in Seattle, Wash., one slain in Butte, Mont., and one probably fatally wounded, in San Jose, California.

In every instance the shootings were carried out in characteristic Tong war fashion, police reports indicated. Low Mow, 72, said to be the only member of the Bing Kong Tong, in San Jose, was met at his door, according to police reports, by three young Chinese, who fired three bullets into his body.

San Francisco police said they were watching the situation. The atmosphere in Chinatown was reported tense.

$1920 STOLEN FROM SAFE OF THEATRE IN TULSA

TULSA, Feb. 13.—One thousand nine hundred and twenty dollars in currency was stolen from the safe of a motion picture theatre between 5 and 6 o'clock this morning after yeggmen had ripped off the combination of the vault in the theatre office; $578 in silver in the same drawer with the currency was not taken.

An open door leading from the roof of the building indicated to the police that the robbers left and entered the building through this building.

Stonewall Program Tonight To Close Scout Observance

An audience estimated at 250 persons turned out at Fitzhugh yesterday afternoon to hear a concert by the Ada High School Boy Scout band, delivered under the auspices of the local Scout council.

Rev. J. H. Ball, pastor of the First Methodist church here, preached and Mrs. Myers of the Methodist church choir rendered a vocal solo. Second class badges were awarded to five scouts.

A feature of the meeting was the appearance of a party of Roff scouts who hiked to Fitzhugh under the direction of Rev. J. E. Bryan to hear the concert.

Today, scout officials will go to Stonewall for a Father and Son luncheon tonight. Rev. Harry Woods will put on some provisional demonstrations and second class badges will be awarded to several boys. About 100 men and boys are expected. This will close a week's observance of the twelfth anniversary.

Notice.

K. P. Banquet is delayed from Tuesday night until further notice.

MASTERS BOUND OVER TO COURT ON RAPE COUNT

After a desperate fight on the part of the defense to have the charge reduced to assault, W. W. Masters, Allen, was bound over to the district court Saturday afternoon by Justice of the Peace W. H. Fisher on a complaint of first degree rape. He was remanded to the county jail without bond.

Masters was alleged to have made a criminal assault upon an 8-year old girl at Allen about two weeks ago. Closing testimony for the state was given by Dr. I. M. Cummings and by the father of the child who was called here from his home in Arkansas. The father and mother are said to be separated.

Assistant County Attorney Hugh F. Mathis, conducting the prosecution, bitterly opposed an effort to reduce the charge and was sustained in his fight by Justice Fisher.

NURSE TO OPEN SCHOOL SURVEY OF ADA WARDS

Health canvass to take in entire county if funds will permit.

IS UNIQUE MOVEMENT

Report on Kiddies Is Expected To Cause Big Improvement.

Mrs. Lucy Henderson, a trained nurse from Oklahoma City, who was due to arrive in the city today to begin a health survey of the schools and school children of Ada and the surrounding community, failed to report to the office of the city superintendent of schools up to 1 o'clock this afternoon according to Prof. J. E. Hickman.

She is expected to arrive tonight, however, and will map out her plan of operation tomorrow. It is expected that within a short time she will have completed her work in the city schools. All ward schools met today and the high school was operating on schedule after a half week dismissal last week for the state teachers' convention at Oklahoma City.

The health survey of school children in Ada and the county is expected to cover about a month, according to a preliminary estimate made by City Superintendent J. E. Hickman. About $200, returned to the county as a result of its contribution to the Christmas health seals campaign conducted by Mrs. Mabel Brown, will be used in the survey which will be a unique one in this part of the state.

As soon as school buildings in Ada are covered, the nurse will go to other points in the county to examine each school child as long as funds last. Her report to the board of education here and at Oklahoma City is expected to show the complete status of each child examined. Local educators will this movement as one that will be of vast importance to the school system in detecting and remedying individual defects in children which have been overlooked by parents.

Superintendent Hickman is chairman of the Pontotoc County Health committee under whose direct supervision the survey will be conducted. Other members of the committee are Mrs. Orville Snead, Dr. S. P. Ross, Mayor Gary Kitchens, R. W. Simpson, John Smith, M. F. Manville, Robert Wimbish, Mrs. S. P. Ross, Dr. M. M. Webster, city health officer, J. B. Hill, Mrs. A. Goetter, Francis, Mrs. Z. K. McCoy, Stonewall; Mrs. John E. Lee, Allen; Mrs. Clay Jones, Roff; Mrs. R. U. Small, Vanoss, and Mrs. Mabel Brown, secretary of the Ada school board.

TEXAS OFFICERS TAKE 9 NEGROES AFTER MURDERS

(By the Associated Press) WACO, Tex., Feb. 13.—A drag net, county and city officials around Concord, near here, where W. A. Barker, a merchant, and his wife, were murdered Saturday night, and Homer Turk, 13 year old son of a neighbor, dangerously wounded, early today had resulted in the arrest of nine negroes, who are held in jail here as suspects. Two of the suspects fit the description of the assassins as given by the four year old daughter of the murdered couple, according to the officers.

The fact that the two negroes held after arrest left home Saturday night and did not return home but were later found by officers in said town, did not consider significant, detectives said today. The other seven suspects are merely held for investigation, it was said.

CURFEW IS RE-IMPOSED AFTER BELFAST RIOTING

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

THE GOLDEN RULE:—As ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them.—Luke 6:31.

IMAGINATION GONE WILD.

The writer of this bit of wisdom once attended a school in which he took a course in Shakespeare, much time being spent on "Hamlet." We found that Hamlet was insane, sane, a student of philosophy, a statesman, a student of science, and in fact almost everything under the shining sun. We even had him as the personification of Shakespeare himself. If Shakespeare had in mind all the things we believed and said he had when he wrote "Hamlet" he would have been a greater student than Bacon or any of the other world famous scholars. As a matter of fact, Shakespeare was not anything more than a playwright who happened to have unusual command of the English language and knew where to find interesting subjects and create interesting characters of the stage. He created or in many instances re-created human beings with the skill of the artist, but to believe that he had half of the ideas in his mind when he wrote his plays that some of the schoolmasters put there is folly.

The same thing is true with what any one writes even in this good day. A simple statement of fact is made. Some one reads it and imagines there is something more implied. Another reads it and finds another thing implied. In the case of Shakespeare, we have immense volumes discussing the question of Hamlet's sanity. If everything that is imagined about an article which appears sometimes in the daily press could be reproduced it would cover thousands of pages. As a matter of fact, the average persons tries to tell exactly what he means in the simplest language possible, and he who tries to read anything else in it is merely "kidding himself."

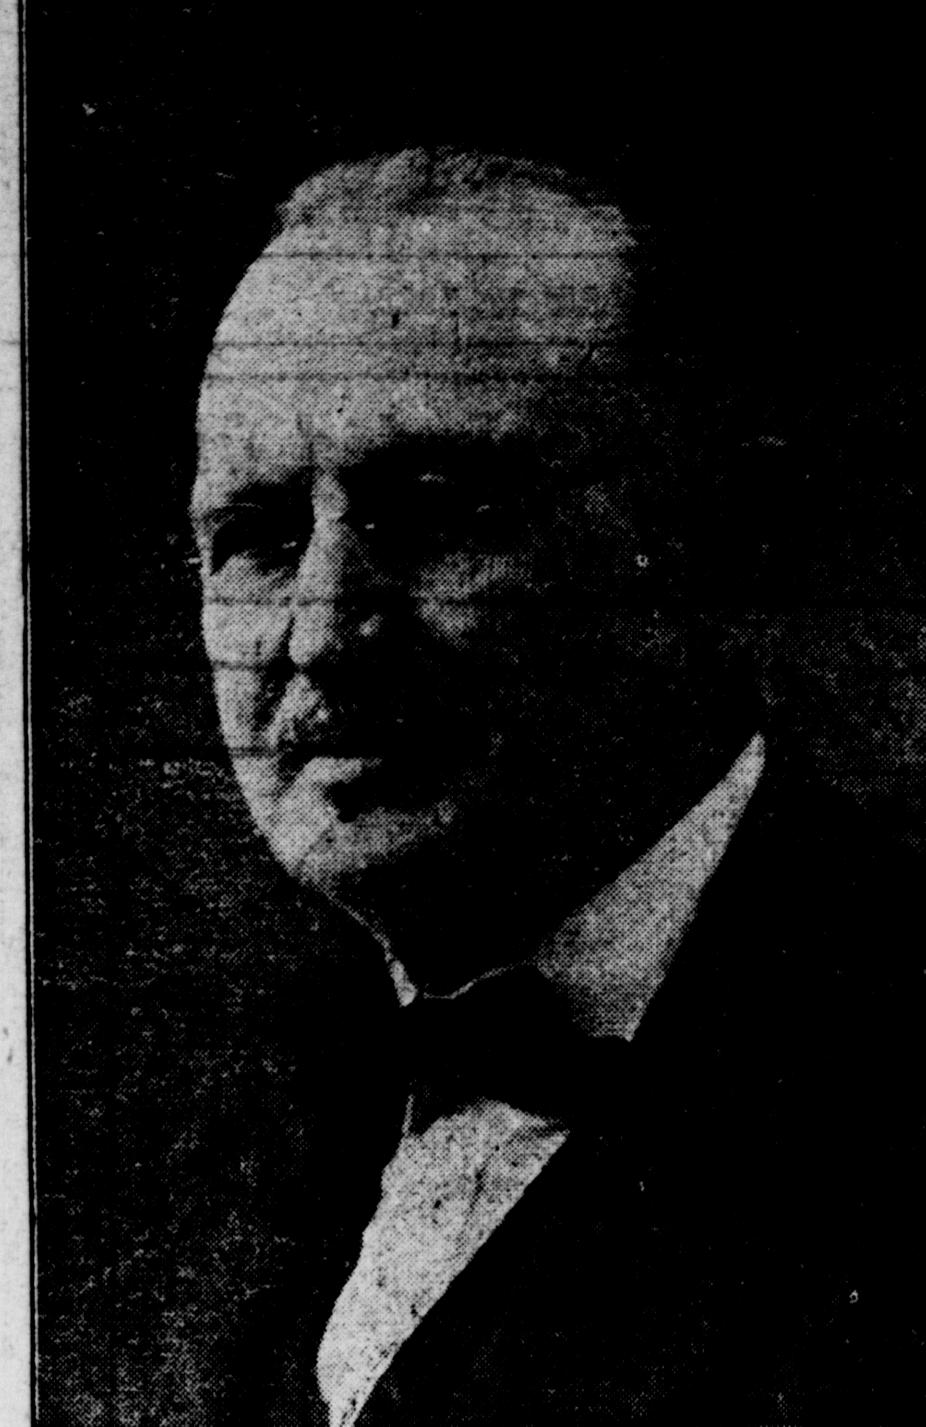

This reminds us of an incident that occurred to a newspaper friend in the East. He wrote an article one day, strongly denouncing certain things of which he knew an official was guilty. Imagine his surprise the next day when this same official thanked him for the article and asking him to keep up the good work. He has never again tried to imply something not directly stated.

No, friends, this implied stuff is not. When you attribute to a news reporter of the present day his implying something not stated in a news story you usually do the reporter credit for having more sense than he has and you are making a fool of yourself.

Savoyard, one of the best known political writers of the country, says in a recent communication that the Republicans will yet be called to account for refusing to ratify the Versailles treaty. He ascribes the unsettled condition of the business world to this failure. To have ratified it would have put this nation in the position of leadership in the reconstruction of the world's affairs and by this time matters would have been so far adjusted that trade would be much nearer normal and there would be less feeling of unrest and uncertainty for the future. Capital is naturally timid and is not going to take many chances. Savoyard closes with the statement that the country needs more Wilsonism at all events, the speedy return to prosperity promised in the campaign of two years ago has failed to materialize as per schedule and in view of the fact that the Republicans have been in control of both houses of congress for four years there will be a lot of explaining to do this year. The Republican party has always claimed to have a monopoly on constructive legislation and the partner of prosperity and now the voters will demand to know what has happened.

The News is in receipt of some literature in opposition to the proposed lease of Muscle Shoals to Henry Ford. It is sent out by the National Fertilizer association, with the request that the paper make whatever editorial comment it sees fit. Here is our comment. Looks strange that the fertilizer interests would spend thousands of dollars in propaganda against the Ford plan unless there is a big chance of his turning out a product cheaper than it can be bought for now. We are more interested in the welfare of the farmers of this nation than we are in profits of the fertilizer manufacturers, so if Ford will lower the prices we are for him.

In an appeal to the senate to ratify the treaties negotiated at the Washington conference President Harding says that peace efforts after a refusal to ratify these pacts would be hollow mockery. When Wilson said about the same thing in regard to ratifying the Versailles treaty Harding was in the senate and ready to knock anything in the head that promised to reflect any credit on Wilson. Now the shoe is on the other foot and Harding must save his face, if possible. As the treaties in question are intended to promote the cause of peace we believe the Democratic senators will be patriotic enough to rise above the partisanship displayed by the Republican senators, aided and abetted by a few Democrats, when the Versailles treaty was under discussion and will vote for ratification, even though Harding and Hughes do get some credit for the work.

A National Disgrace.

(Hugo News)
Many who read this would have died on the battlefields of France or been permanently crippled, had it not been for the American soldiers now known as "disabled veterans."

They stopped the enemy and his bullets. That shortened the war ended it before more of the folks back home were drawn into the casualty lists.

The lucky ones who came through the war uninjured are enjoying peace. But the war goes on forever for the disabled soldier.

In most cases, his battle will last until his death.

And it is a battle that he is fighting largely alone.

More than three years have passed since the Armistice. The disabled war veterans, far from enjoying the comforts that are rightly theirs by all laws of decency, again are compelled to fight for fair, square treatment by the national government.

The details of this fight are being told in the news columns of the Hugo News.

The situation discloses gross neglect and an almost criminal stupidity in mishandling the disabled soldiers.

It is becoming an old story. And it is shadowed by talk of "national ingratitude."

There is, however, no ingratitude. The American people are fully aware of the tremendous debt they owe their crippled and maimed heroes.

The American people stand ready to foot the bill for whatever is necessary to give these men a square deal.

Responsibility for this national disgrace is somewhere in Washington.

Pot will call the kettle black. The buck will be passed freely between Congress and the Veteran's Bureau. The unscrupulous will coin political capital out of the situation.

After all is said and done the real trouble is nothing but red tape and stupidity. It is unbelievable that any American official or representative is voluntarily throwing obstructions in the disabled veteran's path.

What is needed in Washington is a little common sense.

In all the history of our republic there never has been as black a disgrace as the neglect of disabled veterans.

The public, refusing to believe that Uncle Sam's efficiency has fallen to zero, demands action, fast and thorough.

Seating on Thin Ice.

(Holdenville Democrat)
For about a quarter of a century now we, the editor of the Democrat, have been skating on thin ice in the business world and during those twenty-five years we have experienced many thrill that come from success and many of the pangs that are born of failure. But during those long extended and exciting years we have never failed to remember that we alone are the architect of our own individual fortune, and that if we succeed at all, it must be by the cunning of our own mind and industry of our own hands. Never for one moment have we believed that there lies in government either the duty or the power to seize us with a paternal hand and lift us into prosperity by the magic laws of legislation. During the years we have lived we have accumulated many reasons for thankfulness, but for nothing are we more thankful than for the fact that never for one minute have looked to the nation to help us in life's strenuous battle for bread. Many the times we have been tempted to doubt our own ability to win the contest, but never have we even coveted the assistance of a paternal government.

HOME

The word HOME is very dear to us; in fact, the civilized people of all the world dearly love that word. Around it cluster so many fond memories. Who does not often call to mind childhood sports around the old homestead where so many happy days were spent? Was it not then and there that we began to plan another home, a happy home that would be all our own when we had reached the years of maturity? Have these fond hopes been realized? No, not by all. Why? Because all of us did not have the great opportunity that is now available—I mean we did not have access to THE HOME BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATION OF ADA. What a boon to this city is this association. It is ever ready to lend a helping hand in order that all may own a home and that Ada may reach the goal of a city of home owners, and that old age may be adequately provided for.

If I were asked to point the way to success, I would say to save—don't spend all you earn—invest in THE HOME BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATION OF ADA and the money you so invest will work for you just as faithfully as you work for yourself. It has been said "he will succeed for he is a saver." You know him. He is the kind that aims high—that prefers to be recognized by the "Big Fellows" rather than to establish his popularity with the "Good Fellows." Will he succeed? He will.

Fathers, mothers, young men, young women, boys and girls open an account with THE HOME BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATION OF ADA today—it pays interest on small amounts. It is safe. It will help you on to success, and success rightly attained will give you a home and the good things of life.

PROBE OF BANK BOOKS TO OPEN

Parkinson Will Eliminate Talk and Start Work at Okmulgee.

(By the Associated Press)

OKMULGEE, Okla., Feb. 13.—An ounce of performance is worth a ton of talk," Fred Parkinson, state examiner and inspector declared today on his arrival here with two deputies to begin examination of the books and records of the defunct Bank of Commerce when asked what he intended to do.

"We will begin a thorough examination tomorrow and if it takes six days or six weeks, we will stay on the job until it is finished," he said.

In the absence of C. S. Seaton, deputy bank commissioner in charge of the Bank of Commerce, who went to Oklahoma City yesterday to attend arguments before the supreme court in the receivership matter, Mr. Parkinson said he could not begin the examination of the bank's records until Mr. Seaton returned tomorrow.

Mr. Parkinson said he would in no way interfere with the control of the bank's affairs by the state banking department. "We will make a thorough examination of the books and records of the Bank of Commerce and will then make public a report of the results of the investigation," he said.

Petitions demanding the resignation of Judge H. R. Christopher from the superior court bench were circulated at several of the Okmulgee churches yesterday and in the business district today and a large number of signers were obtained. Arrangements were being made today to hold a mass meeting of citizens primarily for those who are not depositors or otherwise interested in the Bank of Commerce at the court house Tuesday night to discuss the situation.

Fears that a riot would be precipitated if Judge Christopher attempted to meet with the committee of the bar association this afternoon at the court house as planned were expressed by County Attorney James Hepburn.

Judge Christopher had not returned to Okmulgee, so far as could be learned, up to noon today and his friends here were of the opinion he would not come to Okmulgee today.

Final Hearing Opens OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 13.—Final hearing to make permanent an alternative writ of prohibition issued against Judge John Norman of Okmulgee to prevent him from naming a receiver to liquidate the assets of the defunct Bank of Commerce of Okmulgee and from restraining the state bank commissioner from the liquidation was begun shortly before noon today in the state supreme court.

INSOLEX

Mrs. Wells is Hostess.

Complimentary to Miss Annie Carr Simpson and her houseparty, Mrs. H. W. Wells entertained with a three course bridge breakfast at her home on West Eighteenth Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

The one large table was laid with a madeira breakfast set and a color scheme of violet and pale pink was used throughout. A large cut glass basket filled with English violets in the center with border of pale pink carnations, and the handle tied with pink and violet tulle was used for center decoration.

Places were found by matching little handpainted cards with clever questions on them, with others at the table on which were the answers. Those entertained were Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Armstrong, Miss Mary Louise Coates, Russell Darling, and Lawrence Hagy, all of Oklahoma City; Mr. and Mrs. Mrs. Hardin live near the Capitol.

Only one man has thus far broken these ranks. He is State Representative William P. Holaday, who announced recently that he would be a candidate before the April primaries regardless of "Uncle" Joe's decision.

Just what Congressman Cannon's political intentions for the immediate future are, is a question.

A few months ago when it was announced in Chicago that Uncle Joe would not again be a candidate, preparations were being made by several to announce their candidacies, when word was received direct from Danville's famous member of congress to the effect that he had not authorized such announcement and that he would inform his constituents of his intentions in good time.

This blighted the budding hopes of local leaders, with the single exception of Representative Holaday.

Cannon's relatives and local managers declare they have received no instructions from him regarding the matter. In the meantime Holaday is canvassing the district and effecting an organization among his friends.

E. W. HARDIN IS STATE CANDIDATE

The many friends of E. W. Hardin in this section will be pleased to know that he will be in the race this year for Insurance Commissioner, an office he now holds. He was appointed to fill out the unexpired term of A. L. Welch, who resigned about a year ago.

Mr. Hardin lived in Ada for many years and was connected with all the moves to make Ada a larger and better city. His family was among the most popular in the history of the town. Since leaving here the children have grown up and scattered. Clifford is married and is living in Oklahoma City, having charge of the insurance for several large fire insurance companies. Glenn is one of the executives for a large oil concern, and Louise is a student of the University of Oklahoma. Mr. and Mrs. Hardin live near the Capitol.

Although the Hardins have been away from Ada for several years, the old timers here still consider them Ada People. It is expected that he will get the vote in this section almost solidly.

LAST LAP OPENS IN CITY LEAGUE FIGHT TONIGHT

The last lap of the city league race for championship starts tonight in the college gym, with the Teachers College and Battery F squads playing two other teams in the league in preparation for the final battle February 20. Battery F will be battling continually during the remainder of the league, while the teachers have only one game after tonight.

Teams scheduled to play tonight are: Teachers vs. High School and Battery F vs. Cement Plant. As Battery F and the Teachers are leading, it is expected that the two games will be in their favor. The Cement plant is the tail ender of the league and after tonight's game will have completed their schedule. The men of that squad will be seen in action for the last time until the league tournament.

Standing of the teams at present is as follows: Teachers, first; Battery F, second; Ada News, third; High School, fourth; Business College, fifth and Cement Plant, sixth. A race has developed between the Battery and Teachers College. All fans are looking forward to that game between these two squads on the night of February 20, for the climax of the entire league season.

BREAK IN LABOR LAW IS CHARGED ADA CONTRACTOR

Six individual actions alleging violation of the state labor laws were filed Saturday in the county court against I. E. Hanson, contractor who has charge of the North Mississippi avenue paving project. The complaints were signed by Frank A. Kerr of the state labor department, Oklahoma City, and allege an underpayment of laborers on the job. Hanson made bond for his appearance at the next session of the county court on criminal cases.

Other cases involving the same complaint are understood to have been filed in justice courts here by individuals who are intended it is said, as test cases.

The paving contract around which the cases center is now near completion.

New cases filed on the civil docket of the district court are: Jesse Hays vs. Hanover Fire Insurance company of New York, judgment; Jess Hays vs. Insurance company of the State of Pennsylvania, judgment; Sutherland Lumber company vs. W. F. McCaske, foreclosure of mortgage; W. N. Hughes vs. B. F. Sullivan et al, foreclosure of mortgage and money due on contract; John F. Hallmark vs. C. W. White and Oklahoma State bank, recovery of land and rents; John F. Hallmark vs. J. H. Kykendall, recovery of land and rents; N. B. Stall vs. W. F. Shulte and R. P. Cotten, money on notes.

THE YOUNG LADY ACROSS THE WAY

UNCLE JOE'S SEAT IS MUCH COVETED BY POLITICIANS

DANVILLE, Ill., Feb. 13.—Will Uncle Joe Cannon make the race for congressman from this district? This is the question that is admittedly troubling a number of men who openly aspire to fill the veteran's chair in the United States House of Representatives but who just as openly announce they will not run if "Uncle" Joe intends to.

"Uncle Joe" has not yet filed his petition as a candidate. His failure to do this last Friday, the first day of the filing, has set the political docket buzzing with speculation, although the petition may be filed any time before March 2.

Only one man has thus far broken these ranks. He is State Representative William P. Holaday, who announced recently that he would be a candidate before the April primaries regardless of "Uncle" Joe's decision.

Just what Congressman Cannon's political intentions for the immediate future are, is a question.

THE MERRY JOURNEYS of MARY JANE

Mary Jane Meets Jumbo—The Big Elephant

"Mary Jane", said Jumbo, "if folks only knew how sweet and good this Mary Jane Syrup is, why everybody would eat it all the time."

ONE day, the circus came to town. There were trained pigs, and clowns, and beautiful ladies riding in chariots, and a cage full of monkeys. But what Mary Jane liked best was the great big elephant, Jing Lin Ousanni. But everybody called him Jumbo.

Jumbo had a very wonderful nose. It was four feet long. And Jumbo could wrap it around a big man, and lift the man right up on his back. Jumbo could pick up a pin with his nose. And he put the end of it right into Uncle Jim's pocket and took out a lot of peanuts.

Mary Jane got to talking with Jumbo and he told her all about Africa and crocodiles, and tigers, and jungles where you get lost right away, just as soon as you stepped off the little path.

Mary Jane was so pleased to hear Jumbo that she opened up her lunch basket and brought out two great big slices of bread spread with delicious Mary Jane Syrup, that she had for when she would get hungry from watching the lions.

She gave one of them to Jumbo, and he took it right up, and curled his long nose around till he put the whole piece of bread in his mouth at once. "Mary Jane", said Jumbo, "if folks only knew how sweet and good this Mary Jane Syrup is, why everybody in the world would eat it all the time." And Mary Jane said that's what she thought, but she didn't like to say so out loud for Mary Jane Syrup was named after her. And then she said "good-bye" to Jumbo, and drove home with her Uncle Jim in his Ford.

Farmers' Column

By Byron Norrell

Unless there is a prolonged change in the weather the fruit trees will all be in blossom very shortly with every prospect of being killed by the frosts that are yet to come. This brings to mind the fact that by a little extra effort fruit may be saved. In her rounds of the city Mrs. I. E. Riddle, circulation manager of the Evening News, has found some cases right here at home. W. T. Garwood, 846 East Eleventh, was one of the few who raised any peaches last year. He kept fires going in his orchard one or two critical nights. Mrs. W. L. Unsell told her of having saved much of their fruit on their ranch in the south end of the county some years ago by means of log fires. Another way is to use syrup cans filled with crude oil equipped with twisted rag wicks.

The Home Demonstration club of Pecan Grove held an interesting meeting Thursday afternoon. The study of dress forms was one of the topics of the occasion. Mrs. Duval was present and she and others made talks on the subjects taken up. Mrs. Vasey Ross was the hostess and at the conclusion of the business session served refreshments.

J. B. Hill reports the organization of a club of 17 boys and girls at McCall school house Friday. The entire membership is very much alive to the importance of the work and Mr. Hill predicts some good results.

Altho farmers were hard hit by the drop of from 3 1/2 to 8 billion dollars the last 2 years in the market price of their products they are showing themselves game losers. They have paid off approximately 25 per cent of their indebtedness within the last 4 months, so says C. J. Masseck, of the Capper Publications after an investigation in the Central states.

No long ago I mentioned the flock of chickens raised by a well known fancier and now a subscriber of the Weekly News writes to get in touch with the party as he wants to improve his flock. I know of several farmers who have fine seed for sale. The best way to reach the public is through the News. People read it and will see even a small ad. No matter what you have to sell there is somebody who wants to buy and will if you let them know what you have. As a result of a two line reader the News has built up a good trade in butter wrapping paper.

I like to see evidences of community pride. On a recent trip through Union Valley I noticed that the citizens had placed a neatly painted sign on the school grounds telling the passersby the name of the school house and informing them that this community was the home of the potato grower's association. The school house and grounds being a credit to any neighborhood, it was a happy thought to let the travelers know its name. In addition to this the fact that the potato growers are doing a well organized business might impress a very desirable prospector with the idea that he had found a first class community in which to locate.

Mrs. Dan Hays sold 60 hens and pullets Saturday for $50. While this may not look like big money it is equal to the returns from a 500-bale of cotton at 10 cents per pound and probably required less effort to produce.

Often pigs do not grow off well because of worms. Hog men recommend a little kerosene poured over charcoal placed in easy reach of the pigs or a little turpentine fed in their slop.

The Barkbettle or Shothole Borer. The barkbettle or shothole borer should be watched for while winter pruning is going on. Trees that are badly affected should be grubbed up and carefully burned. This insect as a rule begins its attack only on weak or injured trees. Peach trees attacked by this insect should be severely pruned. Just before growth begins in the early spring spray the tree with a fish oil soap wash, using one pound of soap to a gallon of water, or to a gallon of good whitewash. These washes may be strained and sprayed or put on with a brush. It should be thoroughly applied to all the trunk and large limbs.

Importance of Good Sires. A gain of 17 per cent in milk production and 20 per cent in butterfat production in daughters over their dams because of the use of a pure-bred bull is the striking result obtained in the New Windsor, Md., cow testing association which has a bull association as a subsidiary. The records of 21 cows were compared with the latter had become mature cows. The average production of the dams for one year was 5,560 lbs. of milk and 219 lbs. of butterfat. The daughters averaged 6,523 lbs. of milk 263 lbs. of butterfat, a gain over the mothers of 968 lbs. of milk and 44 lbs. of fat. In the association every one of the daughters sired by one of the three association bulls was better than her dam. One of the bulls produced an average improvement in his daughters of 1,414 lbs. of milk and 62 lbs. of butterfat.

The worth of the pure-bred sire as an improver of the productive capacity of dairy cows has been measured in a number of localities where there are both cow testing and bull associations. The United States Department of Agriculture has collected figures from a number of communities, but in the past it has been difficult to keep tab on the improvement that bulls have made in herds. The plan of the Dairy Division now is to get such figures, as far as possible, on cows owned by members in all of the 158 bull associations in the United States.

Ebey Recommended

In his "Just Politics" column of the Holdenville Democrat, Luther Harrison has this to say about the candidacy of W. H. Ebey of Ada for state senator:

"W. H. Ebey of Ada has announced as a candidate for the state senate his district. Mr. Ebey is an experienced legislator and would make a capital senator from his district. He was representative from Pontotoc county in the seventh legislature and was chief clerk of the house in the second legislature. He is in the insurance business at Ada."

An Explanation.

Some readers of the News have apparently mistaken the meaning of a sentence appearing in the account of Walter Dodd's case appearing in Saturday's paper. They understand it to mean that the family of the defendant in the deplorable affair is now a charge on Pontotoc county, but such is not the case nor was the story intended to convey such an impression.

Crisp new Gingham are here. They have Springtime itself in their folds. Never have they been so charming, so satisfying in quality. Colorings, new and developed in patterns that have a big spice of children's apparel.

The charm of the new henna and blue colorings is only one of the Gingham highlights. For lines or checks of black, jade, Etruscan red and other colors combined in innumerable ways are attractive. Just a little contrast color organdy, or a trimming of rick rack braid will be all you will need for a woman's dress. A fine selection at

FARTHER OF 25 NOW TESTIFIES

At Seventy-One Years of Age, "Grandpa" Langendorf Can Handle Our Horses and a 16-inch-Lister Plo wAs Well As He Ever Did.

"Well sir, I don't know what is in Puratone, but I do know it has made a well man of me. At seventy-one, I feel like a young man, believe I can digest raw meat, and only yesterday I plowed all day with four horses and a sixteen inch lister plow."

Puratone is sold in Ada by Gwin & Mays Drug Store; Allen, Gwin & Saffrars; Steedman, John Edwards; Stonewall, C. L. Burnett; and leading druggists everywhere.

This amazing statement was made recently in Gwin and Mays Drug Store, Ada, Okla., by Mr. Gilbert Langendorf, a farmer living on Route 1, Ada. "Grandpa," as he is called by his friends, is the father of a remarkable family. He has twenty-two children living out of a family of twenty-five.

"You would wonder even more at this, if you only knew the condition I was in for two years," said

CHICKASHA—Chickasha will fight the action of the officials of the Western baseball association in declaring the local franchise forfeited to Ray Winder, manager of the Chickasha team last year, according to a decision reached at a meeting of baseball followers held recently.
